AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"The Red Mill" Tuesday Night at Barre Opera House.

Fresh from its triumphs of a year's run at the Knickerbocker theatre, New York City, followed by engagements of three months each in Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston, Martin & Emery Co.'s complete production of the Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert comic opera masterpiece, "The Red Mill," will be seen at the opera house on next Tuesday night, February 14.

In collaborating, Messrs. Blossom and Herbert have had the extraordinary good fortune of not duplicating their former success, "Mlle. Modiste," but have in "The Red Mill," one that will far exceed it in many ways.

The story is to the point, describing the trouble in which two American tourists find themselves after spending their money too recklessly, after which they unconsciously prove heroes in rescuing a persecuted maiden from an obdurate parent by entering the mill on the blades of a revolving fan, in which manner they escape with the girl onto the ground and restore her to her lover.

Victor Herbert has composed a score of the whistle kind of music which has already gone through the country with telling effect. Messrs. Martin & Emery have provided an admirable company of some fifty people and have faithfully reproduced scenes and costumes of taint and picturesque Holland.

The cast includes James Crowley as "Con Kidder," William Moore as "Kid Connor," and Vernice Martyn as "Tina," the bar maid. A chorus of forty and the six little Dutchies kiddies, also an augmented orchestra.

Life Saved at Death's Door.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes W. R. Patterson of Wellington, Tex., as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 100 pounds, in spite of doctor's treatment for two years. My father, mother and two sisters died of consumption, and that I am alive to-day is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 187 pounds and have been well and strong for years. Quick, safe, sure, it's the best remedy on earth for coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, croup and all throat and lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy.

Many ills come from impure blood. Can't have pure blood with faulty digestion, lazy liver and sluggish bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters strengthens stomach, bowels and liver, and purifies the blood.

Itching, torturing skin eruptions disappear, annoy, drive one wild. Doan's Ointment brings quick relief and lasting cures. Fifty cents at any drug store.

After a heavy meal, take a couple of Doan's Regulents, and give your stomach, liver and bowels the help they will need. Regulents bring easy, regular passages of the bowels.

Everybody's friend—Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Cures toothache, earache, sore throat, headache, cuts, bruises, scalds. Stops any pain.

CHELSEA.

H. D. Casey of Williamstown has been in town several days this week on his official duty as superintendent of schools.

Lee R. Whitney, Horace Willey and Fred H. Stanton, who have worked more or less during the late months at the bobbin shop, have completed their labors there.

On Friday evening, February 17, at 7:30 sharp, the pupils of the graded school will give an entertainment at the town hall, the program of which will be both musical and literary.

Mr. and Mrs. Will A. Dickinson and children, who have been staying with the former's mother during the absence of his father in Montpelier, returned to their home at Corinth Corner Wednesday.

Charles H. Baraw returned Thursday evening from Lyndonville, to which place he was called earlier in the week to attend the funeral of his father, Henry Baraw, who died suddenly Sunday afternoon.

Dea. Willard S. Hatch, who has been reported seriously ill for about three weeks, seems to have seen the worst of his trouble and is now convalescing, which fact is a source of much happiness to his large circle of friends.

Mrs. Nellie Rising Wheelock returned Thursday from East Brookfield, where she went a week ago to care for Mrs. John H. Sprague, who is now making rapid recovery from a severe attack of the grippe, complicated with acute indigestion.

E. Allen Dickinson, who had been in the Heaton hospital for two weeks, returned to his home on Wallace avenue Monday afternoon and is as comfortable as could be expected, considering that his trouble is cancer of the liver and that he could not be operated upon.

John Larabee, who came home from the Mary Hitchcock hospital at Hanover, N. H., about three weeks ago without having an operation, seems to be improving all the time since his return, and it is sincerely hoped that he is young enough so that he may outgrow his trouble.

Herman H. Campbell, who lives on the road to the South Washington church, is seriously ill with the grippe and under the care of a physician; and Mrs. Mary Bill, who lives near the South Washington church, is slowly recovering from a recent severe attack of the prevailing distemper.

Mrs. Lucy P. Robbins, who has been spending about two months at the home of her son, O. Fay Allen, on Maple avenue, left the first of the week for Barnard, where she has gone to nurse a sick lady, after which she expects to go to Woodstock, where she will have employment as a domestic.

Miss Ardell Corse, who has worked in the family of Eugene H. Kennedy for several weeks, has finished work there and returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Corse, on the west hill. Her place is taken at Mr. Kennedy's by Miss Belle Sabine of Barre. Miss Sabine has just completed a short term of service in the family of B. H. Adams and her place is taken by Miss Rose Dunbar.

Neil, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edw. L. Larkin, who reside on the east hill, died Saturday, February 4, after a few days' illness, at the age of five years and seven months. Funeral services were held from the home of his parents Monday afternoon, the Rev. Fred Daniels officiating, and the interment was in the Hunt cemetery, just south of the residence of Harry O. Flint. The bereaved family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

HANCOCK.

Will Belden is on the sick list. Mrs. Agnes Church is slightly improving.

Zerah Ellsworth is failing. Ben Avery is caring for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hanks of Warren spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Butters.

Rose Taylor is again quite ill and expects to return to the sanatorium as soon as she is able.

Farr and Kennedy began work in their claspboard mill last week, with George Perkins as engineer.

Henry Phelps has bought the farm known as the Eugene Martin place in Granville and will move there soon.

Hiram Perry, road commissioner, is very busy these days, breaking roads over the mountains, as the snow is very deep.

Dr. E. B. Richardson is to move down country soon, as he has sold his hotel to William McCray of Rochester, who will take possession this spring.

Several of the parents and townspeople were present at the closing exercises of the village school. There was an interesting program, refreshments were served and a fine time enjoyed by all.

ROCHESTER.

Dana Goodno is suffering from an injury to his side, caused by a fall.

L. J. Spencer has returned from Woodstock, where he has been as juror for some time past.

A. L. Lewis is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Lewis, at their home in Kennepunkport, Me.

Mrs. Edna Stockwell and daughter, Emily, have gone to Lakeview, N. C., for the remaining winter months.

News has been received of the death of Mrs. Olive Wilcox of Malone, N. Y. She was an aunt of Mrs. Charles Flint and resided here years ago.

Miss Beacie Davenport, who has been in town frequently in years past, and made many friends here, died recently in Barre, at the home of Frank Carleton.

Mrs. H. H. Chaffee, an old-time resident, passed away very suddenly Friday morning. She leaves a husband, son and three daughters, besides many friends.

Dana Goodno has rented the house, formerly occupied by Dr. Merriam, to Joseph Armstrong. Dr. Merriam has moved into the new house built for him by Mr. Robinson.

GRANITEVILLE.

The regular meeting of court Rob Roy, No. 6, F. of A., will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 14. All members of the fair committee please attend. Per order.

MONTPELIER.

Sleigh Raided and 960 Bottles of Beer Seized.

Eight barrels of beer, amounting to 960 bottles, were taken from a sleigh Saturday in which A. Mistrangali was hauling the liquor from Barre to this city. Sheriff Tracy and Deputy Sheriff Henry Lawson, who were the officers who seized the stuff, and the warrant charged illegal transportation, knowing that the liquor was to be disposed of illegally. The seizure was made near the car barn, over the Montpelier line and the stuff was labeled to H. Bertoli, G. Bruno, E. Bianchi, P. Poma, L. Pilline, J. Calogangi and T. Lusena. The load was taken to the court house and Mistrangali was taken before Judge Wing, in the absence of Judge Harvey. The case was continued to Wednesday and Mistrangali was released on bail of $350, G. Massetti going surety.

Mrs. E. C. Kingsbury has purchased for $3,000 the C. E. Bugbee house on Hubbard street.

State Fish and Game Commissioner J. W. Titcomb has appointed John F. Dobbs deputy fish and game warden of Washington county, his appointment becoming effective the first of this month.

Edward G. Sherburne, who was appointed to West Point by Senator Dillingham, has received word that he successfully passed the entrance examinations, and he will enter June 14. He was very popular in school work here, and an excellent student, president of his class, and manager of the basketball team.

Alfred G. Trulan died Saturday at his home on Elm street, after several weeks of intense suffering with heart trouble and complications. Mr. Trulan was born in Upper Bartlett, N. H., 53 years ago, and came to Montpelier when a young man. For twelve years he was employed in the office of the Western Union Telegraph company here and later moved to East Orange, N. J. About a year ago he returned to Montpelier and entered the employ of the Consolidated Lighting company, later accepting a position with the American Fidelity company, which he held at the time of his death. He was a Mason, a member of the Appollo club and of Christ church. He is survived by his wife and one son, Frederick, a student in the high school. Brief services were held at the home yesterday, after which the body was taken to Camden, Me., for interment.

RANDOLPH.

Death of Mrs. Mary Jerd from Peritonitis Saturday Morning.

Mrs. Mary Jerd died at the sanatorium Saturday morning at half-past five o'clock. Two weeks ago she underwent a surgical operation, and her death was caused by peritonitis, which followed Mrs. Mary Jerd was born in Hanover, Germany, September 10, 1865, one of seven daughters and three sons born to Gustave and Marie Woehler. When six years of age, her parents came to the United States and landed in New York, where she lived till her marriage to Frank N. Jerd, 22 years ago. One year after their marriage they came to Vermont and located in Roxbury, where their four children were born; 14 years ago they came to this village to reside. Mrs. Jerd is survived by three daughters, Lilla, a trained nurse, Margie, who is now taking a course of training at the sanatorium preparatory to being a nurse, and Jennie and Mark, who are both at home. Deceased is also survived by four sisters, Mrs. Freda Brown of Canton, N. Y., Mrs. Emma Swallow in Marshall, Mich., Miss Anne Woehler of Burlington and Mrs. Hattie McCorr of Montpelier. The last two of whom have arrived and were present for the funeral. One brother, Henry Woehler, living in New London, Conn., also survives. Mrs. Jerd was a devoted mother, giving of her life and strength to the good of her children. Being for a long time in poor health, much of her time was passed in the home where she will be greatly missed. Deceased was a member of the Bethany church, to which she was much attached, and also belonged to the sanatorium aid and the Randolph grange. The funeral was held from the Bethany church at half-past ten this forenoon, Rev. Fraser Metzger officiating, and interment was in Southview cemetery. The bearers were Fred and George Jerd, H. W. Vail and Dr. L. A. Russell, and the regular church choir furnished music at the church service.

Mrs. John Howell of Barre is at N. C. Greene's for an indefinite time.

Mrs. F. A. Bruce has returned from a ten days' visit at Northampton, Mass.

Mrs. F. H. Tracy from Montpelier was here Saturday to see Mrs. N. C. Greene, who is now much more comfortable.

Mrs. Ed. Harlow of Barnard has been visiting her mother, Mrs. D. M. English, for some time and on Saturday returned to her home.

Mrs. Wallace Hill went to Bath, N. H., Saturday, to join her husband there, having finished work for the Brigham Gelatine company for the present.

Mrs. E. R. Draper has sold her stock of millinery and is undecided whether she will remain here for the coming season or go out of town for business.

"Lincoln day" was observed Sunday by the Federated Sunday school, with a special program prepared for the occasion. The church auditorium was decorated with flags and a good number of people were in attendance.

CABOT.

Death of Mrs. Lyndon McAllister at Age of 72 Years.

Rosetta E., wife of Lyndon McAllister, died of pneumonia at her home in Cabot, February 7, aged 72 years. Rosetta, Eliza Hook was born in Fletcher, Feb. 17, 1839, the daughter of Sarah and Orrin Hook. In 1864, she became the wife of Lyndon McAllister of Stowe and in that place they lived until 1874, when they moved to this place.

Three daughters, Frank, Sarah and Mary, and one son, Henry, came to share their home and love and later they adopted another son, Duncan, to whom, although neither of their kith nor kin, they gave their name, and he received a mother's tender love and care. Besides these five children, she leaves her aged husband, one little granddaughter, Helen Rosetta Hatch, and an only sister, Ann E. Gates of Colorado.

All her life she was an earnest, faithful Christian, a loving daughter, a loving and devoted wife and mother and a faithful friend. "Her children rise up and call her blessed; her husband also, and praise her, saying, 'Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all. Give her of the fruit of her hands and let her works praise her in the gates.'"

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Robert Closson, who is attending the high school at Montpelier, came out to spend Sunday at his home.

W. B. Kendrick of Rochester, N. Y., formerly with the Gearson-Beckett company, is spending a week or two in this town on account of Mrs. Kendrick's illness.

M. V. Gearson has been so far under the weather for a few days that he has had to leave his shop wholly in the care of Mr. Randall. He is now improving.

Rev. Alvin M. Smith, who came from Maine on account of the death of his uncle, Major L. A. Abbott, was in this place last week, spending one night at the home of his father, David Smith, and one night with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Oranger. Mr. Smith is in charge of Major Abbott's estate.

GRISCOM, JR., AND MISS ARNOLD.

Young Man Doesn't Know Where the Young Woman Is, But Wants to Marry Her.

New York, Feb. 13.—Contrary to the expectations in some quarters, George S. Griscom, Jr., whose name is linked with the disappearance of Miss Dorothy Arnold of New York, gave no clue at Atlantic City, N. J., Saturday to the present whereabouts of the young woman, but in an interview made the statement that he would marry her if she reappeared. He believes Miss Arnold is alive and expressed the hope that she would soon be found. Mr. Griscom went to Atlantic City Friday night, and was followed there by his father and mother. He said he would remain in Atlantic City over yesterday. News from the Arnold family that they still believe the girl to be dead was received Saturday by George Griscom, Jr. "I believe we will never see Dorothy again alive," was the text of his message.

Young Griscom told Saturday night for the first time his connection with the world-wide hunt for the missing girl. His narrative included the trip across the ocean by Mrs. Arnold, mother of the girl, to Florence, Italy, when it was believed that the girl had fled from this country to meet Griscom; the search made by the Arnold family, when it was found she was not with Griscom, and the effort made to reach the girl and lure her home by personal letters inserted in a New York newspaper.

According to Griscom, Mrs. Arnold asked his permission to insert the personal letters and requested his assistance in their wording, with the idea of conveying to the missing girl the impression that Griscom himself inserted them. One of the personal letters, according to Griscom: "Everything all right. Am returning to New York. Most me if possible." Griscom said again Saturday night that he had no idea as to the whereabouts of Miss Arnold. "God knows I wish I could say where she is," he exclaimed. Young Griscom Saturday night said that Mrs. Arnold, who is now on her way from Europe, had not made an engagement with him to meet him at Atlantic City. The elder Griscom the same night said that he had met Mr. Arnold and discussed with him the chances of finding his daughter alive. He added: "Please do not connect me with this matter any farther than you can help. My only desire is to see Miss Arnold restored to her parents."

450 DARTMOUTH MEN

Attended Banquet Held in Boston Friday Evening.

Boston, Feb. 12.—Four hundred and fifty loyal sons of Dartmouth gathered about the banquet board Friday night, to participate in the forty-sixth annual election and dinner of the Association of Dartmouth Alumni of Boston and vicinity, which was held in a local hotel.

The business session preceded the dinner and the following officers were elected: President, Benjamin Tenney, '85, Boston; vice presidents, James Richardson, '87, Boston; Henry W. Stevens, '75, of Concord, N. H.; John C. Sanborn, '91, of Lawrence, Warren C. Gregory, '89, of Boston; secretary, Thomas W. Streeter, '84, Boston; treasurer, James H. Chandler, '98, Boston.

James B. Reynolds, '90, of Washington, D. C., a member of the United States tariff board and the retiring president of the alumni association, was toastmaster and first speaker at the postprandial exercises. The other speakers included President Ernest Fox Nichols of Dartmouth; Thomas Nelson Perkins, Harvard, '91, who brought greetings of Harvard; Parker E. Handy of New York, Princeton, '79, who brought greetings from Princeton, and Henry Crosby Emery of Washington, D. C., chairman of the tariff board and a former professor at Yale, bringing "greetings from New Haven and Washington."

GREAT LOSS THREATENED.

When Fire Broke Out in Findlay, O., Last Evening.

Findlay, O., Feb. 13.—Fire last night destroyed the plant of the Paragon Insulating company and the greater part of the plant of the National Heating company and for several hours threatened the town. The loss is estimated at $125,000. The plant will be rebuilt at once.

The Postoffice, The Popular Magazines And The People

A provision has been added to the Postoffice Appropriation bill by the Senate Postoffice Committee without proper notice or public hearing.

It provides for an unjust discriminatory and confiscatory tax on the popular magazines. By attaching this provision to the Postoffice Appropriation bill at the eleventh hour, all opportunity for open discussion and consideration by the people, the publishers and the Senate was cut off.

It was an American star chamber proceeding accomplished under presidential and political coercion. If this bill is passed with the provision which practically exempts from taxation magazines which have not spoken boldly on public questions, many of the popular periodicals will be put out of business altogether and the others without exception will be seriously crippled. Even if it were possible for the magazines to continue in business under these new conditions the people would derive no benefit from such a measure, for until Postoffice Department is taken out of politics and a business-like management installed, it is improbable that any additional revenue collected will be used economically.

We urge every friend of honest politics, economical government and a free press to telegraph or write an immediate protest to their Senators and Representatives.
